Memories and cherished friendships are firmly implanted in our minds as we leave Colonia Senior High School tonight. Emotions of joy, sadness, exhilaration, and nostalgia run rampant within us -- sometimes in conflict, sometimes in a mysterious harmony. As we sort out these feelings, the realization comes that they run much deeper than superficial expression. We begin to focus on the foundation of all human relationships --- Love. Without love there are no relationships. Indeed, there is no life. It is love that motivates our feelings of attachment to one another. It is love which enables us to overcome temporary feelings of regret. It is love which aids us in our search for a better tomorrow.

May the love within each of us guide each step we take into the uncharted future. May it provide us with the strength and courage to act justly at all times mindful of the welfare and dignity of our fellow man.

John F. O'Malley

ACADEMIC COSTUME

The wearing of academic dress dates back to the early days of the oldest universities in the world. The American Universities established the academic dress some 66 years ago as a means of distinguishing the Bachelors, Masters and Doctorates and at the same time to credit the university which has given them the degree.

The Bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves, worn closed. The hood is 36 inches in length.

The Master's gown has oblong sleeves, open at the wrist. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut and front part has an arc cut away. The hood is 42 inches in length.

The Doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves and is usually of rayon or silk ribbed material. The hood is 48 inches in length.

All hoods are lined in silk in the academic color or colors (chevrons) of the institution conferring the degree. The binding or edge of the hood is usually of velvet designating the subject. Some of the colors are: beige, Fine Arts; white, Arts and Letters; lemon, Library Services; green, Medicine; light blue, Education; blue, Philosophy; gold, Science.

Black mortarboards are worn for all degrees.

FACULTY BOWL

The faculty bowl award of Colonia Senior High School was established as an annual recognition of that member of the graduating class who, in the judgement of the faculty has contributed the most and the best to the life-blood of the school, to the undying glory of Alma Mater. Traits of character, the self disciplines of cooperation, leadership and service, and scholarship are the fused elements of a composite criterion of selection.

Tonight we inscribe the name of the thirteenth recipient.
